A groundbreaking initiative in Ethiopia is transforming the energy landscape by electrifying five rural villages across three regions, illuminating close to 4,000 homes and businesses. Boasting a potent solar capacity of 650 kWp and 1.6 MWh of lithium battery storage, the project serves as a beacon.

With more than 60 million off-grid, Ethiopia is not only the world's third largest market for solar products but also the most challenging. Beyond its complex regulatory environment making it difficult for the PAYGO model, Ethiopia also has one of the lowest mobile money penetration in Africa and.

Officials at the Ministry of Water and Energy are preparing to set new tariff rates for off-grid solar power in the coming months as the government attempts to strike a balance between investor returns and affordability. The announcement comes on the heels of a partnership agreement with the.

Well, three factors dominate Ethiopia's solar pricing landscape: A 5kW residential system that cost 180,000 ETB ($3,200) in 2022 now averages 240,000 ETB. But wait, no – that's not the whole story. Actually, new financing models are changing the game. The 2023 National Electrification Program.

The stumbling block has been cost: panels and installations remain prohibitively expensive for households and small businesses. For Abel Zerfu, a graduate of Adama Science & Technology, that gap spelled opportunity. He began designing solar combiner boxes, devices that merge power from multiple.
