Overview

Why is Haiti struggling to modernise its energy sector?

Haiti's recent battles to modernise its energy sector serve as a stark lesson for how fraught the business of energy transition can be. In the wake of the scandal, the struggle to provide Haiti's 11 million people with reliable energy - and the desire to attract foreign investment to do so - has taken on an evermore politically charged hue.

Is Haiti a good place for solar power?

Haiti enjoys abundant sunlight throughout the year, making it an excellent candidate for solar power systems.

How many people in Haiti have electricity?

About 49% of the population of Haiti had access to electricity as of 2022. In rural areas, that number is closer to 2%, and while 80% of Haiti's urban areas have access to electricity, that access may not be reliable. "Even when a household is connected to the power grid, they might only have power for three to eight hours a day."

Can private investment help solve Haiti's energy crisis?

"We have had this energy crisis for a long time, more than 20 years," says Evenson Calixte, managing director of Haiti's Autorité Nationale de Régulation du Secteur de l'Énergie (ANARSE), the nation's energy regulatory authority. "And we believe that one element that can help reform this sector is private investment."

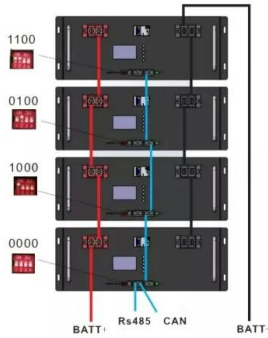

Does Haiti have a solar microgrid?

Earlier this year, Haiti launched its second solar microgrid in the south of the country. The microgrid was created by US-based EarthSpark International in collaboration with Enèji Pwòp, Haiti's in-country social enterprise arm, with plans to create 22 additional grids over the next four years.

Why is Haiti underdeveloped?

Haiti's energy access and infrastructure remain critically underdeveloped. In addition, Haiti relies heavily on imported fossil fuels, which are expensive, harmful to the environment, and exacerbate existing challenges to Haiti's energy sector.
