Will Virginia be the birthplace of commercial fusion energy?

“In the early 2030s, all eyes will be on the Richmond region . as the birthplace of commercial fusion energy,” Mumgaard said. Virginia is also the world’s largest data center market, a sector that requires huge and growing amounts of energy.

What is nuclear fusion?

Nuclear fusion is the process of combining two light atomic nuclei to form a heavier one, releasing vast amounts of energy. This process powers the sun and other stars, occurring in a state of matter known as plasma—a hot, charged gas distinct from solids, liquids and gases.

Is fusion just decades away?

A common joke in the industry is that, for decades, fusion has been just decades away. It’s something CFS acknowledges. “Nothing occurs overnight in fusion,” Mumgaard said. But the startup, which was spun out of MIT in 2018 and has raised more than $2 billion so far, says it is moving at pace.

Is fusion a viable alternative to fission?

Fusion is near limitless, produces no planet-heating pollution and unlike fission, the nuclear technology the world currently uses, it leaves no legacy of long-term nuclear waste. But taking it from research projects in labs around the world to commercial use has proved fiendishly difficult.

What international organizations do Malaysia and the United States belong to?
