

European Solar Energy Storage

Tallinn lithium battery energy storage project bidding

Overview

Why are lithium-ion batteries gaining space in Estonia?

When countries are trying to reduce their greenhouse gas emissions for meeting the climate targets, the role of energy storage would be crucial. Lithium-ion batteries are also gaining space in Estonia to reduce dependence on other countries for power and to ensure a cleaner energy mix in line with its goal to build more battery parks.

When will Iges build a new battery facility in Tallinn?

Completion date: First phase by 2025, second phase by 2026. Storage capacity: 400 MWh. Location: Kiisa, Saku Rural Municipality, Harju County, near Tallinn, Estonia. Read also LGES Pauses Construction on part of its $5.5B Battery Facility in Queen Creek.

Where are large scale battery storage projects being implemented?

Similar projects are being implemented in different European and global locations as nations attempt to balance their grids and increase the share of renewable power sources. other parts of the world such as America and Australia are also heavily investing in large scale battery storage.

Which countries are investing in large scale battery storage?

other parts of the world such as America and Australia are also heavily investing in large scale battery storage. Currently, the largest energy storage station in the world is in California, its capacity is equal to 1,200MWh.
