Why using solar energy is good

Overview

You can expect to seriously reduce or even eliminate your electric bills when you install a solar panel system. Solar panels generate free, renewable energy throughout their 25 to 30-year lifespan, meaning every kilowatt-hour (kWh) of solar you use to power your home is one less unit you purchase from the utility. You'll.

Homes with solar generally sell for more than homes without (by 4% on average!). Considering that solar allows you to reduce or eliminate electricity bills, it's easy to understand why—wouldn't you rather live somewhere with cheaper monthly utility bills?

Going solar requires a significant investment, but it usually pays for itself multiple times over throughout its decades-long lifetime. As.

Why is solar energy important?

Solar energy creates free, renewable power from the sun. It's abundant and produces no carbon emissions or local air pollution. Still, about 60% of the electricity that power plants generate in the U.S. comes from fossil fuels like coal and natural gas, which we know contribute to issues related to global warming and climate change.

Why should you install a solar energy system?

Solar panels draw their energy from the renewable resource that is our sun. Not only does installing a solar energy system reduce your reliance on fossil fuels (which improves your air quality and protects the environment), but it can also save you $25,000 to over $110,000 over its lifetime.
